Mystery Surrounds Shooting of A Coal Miner of Vesta No. 6 Mine

MAN SHOT EARLY THIS MORNING

Mike Evans, a Miner, of Vestaburg, At the Morgue of Deputy Coroner M. T. Crowley, While Minions Are Making Invstigation

A SHOT-GUN IS USED

Evans And a Man Named Parloff, According to Parloff's Story, Were At Pittsburgh And McKees Rocks, And Killing Occurred on Return Trip

This morning at 3:30 o'clock, Mike Evan Panloff, also a miner, of Vesta Even Panloff, also a miner of Vesta No. 6 mine, stopped at an oil and gas station located at a point about five miles west of Charleroi, conducted by a man named Sam Nelson. They are said to have aroused the keeper of the place from his slumbers, who refused to sell them oil. According to the story told Chief of Police Jas. A. Murphy this forenoon, they pushed against the door, which yielded to their efforts, walked in and secured a quantity of oil. They then left southward bound in the direction of Bentleyville. On their way they were overtaken by a Ford car, in which, it is said, were Constable Playford Wright of Fallowfield township and Nelson.

A shooting melee occurred, Evans being shot in the breast and killed. The would is indicative that it was inflicted by a shotgun.

On the body of Evans was found an automatic revolver.

According to the story told Chief Murphy by Panloff, Evans and Panloff left Sunday afternoon to visit friends in Pittsburgh and McKees Rocks. They left Pittsburgh last night at 9 o'clock on their return trip. When they reached Monongahela, their car went out of commision, necessitating repairs. They then proceeded on their way.

The body of Evans is at the morgue of Deputy Coroner M. T. Crowley. Coroner William Greenlee and County Detective William E. Dinsmore were notified, and are expected here this afternoon to assist the police in making a thorough investigation. Pauloff claimed that they stopped at Nelson's and Nelson refused them oil; he admitted they took some.

They couldn't run their machine without oil on account of the cold.

Another story is to the effect that

Lenin Dies When Labors Being Enjoyed

BULLETIN.

Moscow, Jan. 22.—(United Press).—Lenin is dead.

The man who lead the Russian revolution and overthrew the long established order of the Czars, passed away at a moment when his party is beginning to reap the fruits of his labors.

Ill for many months, the bolshevik leader died while others carried on the soviet government he founded.

Today came word of his death — many times rumored and as often denied.

The Russian leader, hailed as one of the greatest men of modern times, died at 10 minutes to seven Monday night.

His death took place at a little town called Gorky, not far from Moscow.

The funeral will be held on Saturday.

On that day, the body of Lenin will be interred in the Kremlin Mall, beside that of Svertloff, one of his

High School Play Is A Big Success

The members of the Mid-year graduating class of 1924 last night brought fame to themselves as well as the school they represent when they presented one of the most successful class plays that has been produced within the walls of the auditorium without exception. "Green Stockings," a comedy in three acts, under the capable supervision of Miss Rita Criste, was without doubt a most interesting and delightful play, holding the auditors' interest throughout. Comments of praise and enthusiasm were heard at every hand. Not too much can be said of the members, who took active part in the production. The ease and entire familiarity with their various roles certainly evidenced the weeks of untiring rehearsals and work they had undergone. Another commendable feature was the fact that every word spoken was audible at every point in the auditorium. The augmented stage, the new scenery, the beautifully furnished stage (through the courtesy of the Woodward Furniture and Carpet Company), all added to the success of the affair.

Each member seemed to be exactly suited to his or her role and although everyone did exceptionally well, Miss Margaret Knight, as Miss Cecelia Farady, the leading character, deserves especial mention. Her role was a difficult one, as well as a delightful one, and she carried it off with the reality and ease of one actually living the part. She was ably supported by Miss Alvera Chalfant, as Mrs. Chisholm Farady, an aunt of Miss Cecelia's. The young ladies all looked stunning in their brightly colored gowns, while the young men were indeed aristocratic looking in their tuxedos.

Those who participated in the play were as follows: Madge, (Mrs. Rockingham), Genevieve McMahan; Evelyn, (Lady Trenchard), Sara Welch; Phyllis Faraday, Beatrice Greenberg; Mrs. Chisholm Farady, (Aunt Ida), Alvera Chalfant; Martin, Charles Hall; Robert Tarver, Foster Pyle; James Raleigh, James Ferguson; Henry Steel, Edward Crum; William Farady, Alan Brenton; Admiral Grice, Gilbert Parks; Celia Faraday, Margaret Knight; Colonel Smith, James Meli.

Results Being Made In The Killing of Game

Harrisburg, Jan. 22—(United Press)—The drive against animals destroying game in Pennsylvania is producing marked results from the number of bounty claims filed with the State Game Commission since the drive started, according to an announcement of Seth E. Gordon, secretary of the commission today.

"Vermin drives now being conducted by many sportsmen's organizations throughout the state, also the work of the State Trapping Instructor and the Game Protectors, is resulting in a deluge of bounty claims at this time," said Gordon.

Since 1913, when bounty claims were first paid from the hunter's license fund, more than $1,000,000 has been expended, it was announced. Since 1919, when approximately the same amount was paid as last year, namely $85,200, claims have been as follows:

For wild cats, foxes, minks and weasels: 1920, $118,539; 1921, $136,191; 1922, $111,758; 1923, $85,200.

The present rate of bounties is: Wild cats $15; Grey foxes $4; Red foxes $2; and weasels $1, there being no bounty on minks at the present time.

DR. C. W. PETTY TO MAKE THE ADDRESS

Distinguished Baptist Clergyman Secured For Commencement Exercises to Be Held In Auditorium Thursday Evening At 8

NAMES OF THE GRADUATES

Dr. F. C. Stahlman, President of School Board, Will Present Diplomas—Music By Selected Chorus And Orchestra—Local Divines Will Have Part

Commencement exercises of the Mid-Year class of the Charleroi High school will be held Thursday evening in the auditorium at 8 o'clock. The class is comprised of the following members:

Eleanore Berryman, August Joseph Puchinger, Alan Cary Brenton, Edna Alvera Chalfant, Samuel Harry Crawford, Edward George Crum, James Pierce Ferguson, Beatrice Marcella Greenberg, Julia Cecilia Gura, Charles Wesley Hall, Margaret Alice Knight, Genevieve Frances McMahon, James Vincent Meli, Gilbert Elliott Parks, Foster Morris Pyle, Sara Welch.

Music for the exercises will be furnished by the High School Selected Chorus and Orchestra, under the direction of Earl A. Braman.

The distinct feature of the occasion will be the address of Dr. C. Wallace Petty, pastor of the First Baptist church, Pittsburgh, whose theme will be "Youth and the New Day." Dr. Petty is said to be one of the most gifted, eloquent, and logical speakers as reflects the Pittsburgh clergy, and Superintendent Thomas L. Pollock, the Charleroi Board of Education, and all connected with the local institution of learning, are congratulating themselves that they are able to secure Dr. Petty. That the learned man will be greeted by an audience that will tax the capacity of the auditorium, is a foregone conclusion.

Dr. Fred C. Stahlman, president of the schools' directorate, will present the diplomas to the class; Rev. S. H. Dixon and Rev. R. J. Shields will also take part in the exercises. The picture presentation will be made by Charles Hall. A vocal duet, "Whispering Hope," will be rendered by Miss Theresa Aschman, soprano, and James Meli, baritone.

GREATER HARMONY AMONG THE POLICE

Council and the burgess, chief of police, and the patrolmen held a meeting at the close of the special session of the body last night. The meeting was in a sense an organization meeting, being to get a more definite understanding between council, the burgess, chief of police, the police force, the constables and high constables to the end that harmony between those concerned be further promoted, and the fulfillment by the minions of the exactions of law upon them imposed.

The employment of an additional policeman on part time will permit the service of an officer on duty in the police station during the night hours, 12 p. m. to 6 a. m. This service will be established for the benefit of the public.

Council also acquiesced in the recommendation of the borough engineer in the matter of the re-arranging of poles, representatives of the West Penn Power company, the West Side Street Railways company, and the Bell Telephone company being present.

Charles Phillips was elected as an auditor to succeed Paul Ryland.

C. S. McKean, of the Bank of Charleroi, was elected borough treasurer.

The Boy Scouts are to assist in regulating street traffic under the jurisdiction of the police department, by motion of council.

INCOME TAX THIS YEAR

Collectors of internal revenue are receiving returns of income for the year 1923 computed in accordance with the proposed amendment to the existing law to reduce the normal tax rate from four and eight to three and six per cent, and embracing other proposed changes.

The government's answer in such cases is that the tax on income for the year 1923 is being collected under the revenue act of 1921 which is still in effect, and which provides a normal tax rate of four percent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the exemptions and credits and eight percent on the remaining net income.

TRIAL OF A "DRY" IS ON TODAY

New York(Jan. 22—(Unted Press)—Trial of William H. Anderson, indicated state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, was to be resumed here at 10:15 a. m., today, following selection of a jury.

There was no indication as to the turn proceedings might take today, but court attaches looked for a sharp legal tilt between former Governor Whitman, attorney for Anderson, and assistant district attorney Pecora, prosecutor.

Anderson is on trial for third degree forgery in connection with alleged alterations in the books of the league. It is one of five indictments against him. The indictment was returned July 25, 1923.

MAN KEEPS 2 FAMILIES ON $159 A MONTH

Chicago, January 22—(United Press)—The amazing tale of how a policeman lived a double life for 14 years, supporting two wives and 10 children was re-told today by Patrolman John Clark, 52. At the time Clark contracted his second "marriage" he was drawing $69 a month. His present salary is $159.

The disclosure came yesterday following a quarrel between Clark and Mrs. Clark No. 2 on a matter of money. Mrs. Clark No. 2 demanded $100 a month and when Clark said he could not deprive Mrs. Clark No. 1 of her part of the salary, she complained to Capt. Matchett, his superior officer.

Clark made a complete confession to Capt. Matchett. He was suspended from the force and ordered to appear before Police trial board.

POISON BOOZE CAUSES DEATH

ENGINEER IS INSPECTING DAMS

Major E. F. Daley, inspector of locks and dams of the Monongahela, Allegheny, and Ohio rivers, started his second inspection of dams along the Monongahela river yesterday aboard the United States Steamboat Swan.

The second inspection by Major Daley and his assistant Captain Larkin is being made this week to determine the amount of damage, if any, which was done dams in the stream during the several weeks of high water. Three weeks ago Major Daley with his corp of assisting engineers made a thorough inspection of all locks and dams along the entire course of the stream before the river stage was above normal. This was completed and a report on the condition of locks was under preparation by Major Daley when high water interfered with his plans and a second inspection was made necessary. At a number of the Monongahela river locks the program of reconstruction and improvement for which congress recently appropriated $1,400,000 was underway before the flood stage arrived. This work necessarily has been discontinued for the time being and will be resumed when the river stage is normal. At Lock No. 3 the entire force of men working on the locks and dam was furloughed until a normal water stage is recorded. Major Daley's second inspection will in a large measure be of more importance than the first as it may more correctly determine what damage high water does to the dams and make way for any additional recommendations in the reconstruction and improvement program that has now been arranged. River coal and shipping trade was greatly hampered by the high water for several weeks.

Harry Fay Attains New Fistianic Laurels-- Cuddy DeMarco Also Wins

Harry Fay, local light-heavyweight, took another step toward championship honors at Indianapolis last night when he defeated Young Stribbling, hailed as one of the fistianic wonders of the age, in a rattling 10-round encounter. Mr. Fay not only won the bout in decisive fashion, but was, it is said, so completely the master of Stribbling, that the latter is reported to have resorted to fouling tactics. Stribbling was taller and heavier than Fay. The mill was the main one of a good bill, and the bout was witnessed by one of the largest crowds ever seeing a boxing contest in Indianapolis. The mother of Mr. Fay received the message of her son's victory by telephonic communication, and is greatly rejoiced in the triumph of her talented and popular son. The lady is also the recipient of numerous congratulations on the part of Harry's many friends and well-wishers in this community, and to the number the Mail joins.

Two of the three fights staged in the Eagles temple at East Liverpool, O., last night were called off due to a fighter in each of the bouts having a decided advantage over his contestant. The main bout between Cuddy DeMarco of Charleroi and Tony Pizazza of Pittsburgh, scheduled for eight rounds ended in the sixth round by order of the referee after the Pittsburgher had been floored seven times. DeMarco knocked his adversary down four times in the third round. The Iron City boxer gained the applause of the spectators by his ability to take punishment however.

The eight round bout between Johnnie O'Brien of Charleroi and Johnnie Jallus of Cleveland, came to a sudden close in the fifth round when Jallus' seconds threw a sponge into the ring. Jallus had been sent to the floor twice in the fourth round and three times in the fifth round.

Students to Be Given Chance to Contribute For Harding Memorial

Pupils in the schools of Washington county will be given an opportunity to contribute to the fund now being raised for the Harding Memorial Association. The purpose of the fund is to establish a permanent memorial to the late president.

School children are asked to give at least five cents each toward the fund and it is suggested that the collection be taken on Monday, January 28. Teachers are asked to make a special feature of the offering and to make the occasion a historical one. A sketch of President Harding's life should be given with reference to his connection with Washington county family history. Other national monuments and historical shrines should be mentioned and other features added which would make it a day and occasion long to be remembered by all the pupils.

[illegible] chairman for Washington county, is anxious that the schools make most of the opportunity and that the late President's sterling Americanism be emphasized. He suggests that members of the school board and patrons of the schools attend and take part in the program.

Handsomely engraved certificates will be given to all who make contributions of one dollar or more. School children who secure five one dollar contributions or one five dollar contribution will be given a certificate free. These certificates contain a splendid likeness of Mr. Harding and will be valuable souvenirs.

WHO FOOTS THE BILL?

We've recently heard a few Charleroi citizens who do not own autos complaining about the enormous sums of money spent on highway construction and contending that car owners are the only ones who benefit. In a measure that is true, but they are apt to overlook who pays for the roads. It is really the car owners who must maintain them. The federal government, for instance, reports that it has paid out $264,782,216 on account of Federal Aid highways, forest road construction and expense of administration. But this is not a tax on the non-car owner because the government has collected $589,012,21 in taxes on autos, tires and accessories. This leaves more than $360,000,000 of automobile money to be turned into the treasury to help meet other expenses of the government. In many states license fees, gasoline taxes and other charges—to say nothing of the property tax—usually take care of the road-building programs and sometimes leave a surplus.

If the non-car owner feels that better roads aid the auto-owners and do not help him he should remember that the better the roads the easier it is for producers to get their wares to market. And the easier it is to market them the lower the prices to everyone—car owner or non-car owner. In fact, there is no one in any community whom good roads do not benefit, and the better the roads the greater the benefit. If we are not getting the finest of highways then it is largely our fault and those who own cars should have their representative look into it. They are paying their auto license money to state and nation with the understanding that it is to be used on roads—they should get what they are paying for. Then all of us will be benefited.

LENIN DIES WHEN HIS LABORS ARE BEING ENJOYED

fellow leaders in the great upheaval of Russia.

The death of Lenin came as a blow to his millions of followers.

Despite his two years' absence from the Kremlin, he was first in the hearts of the Russians who rose behind him and overthrew the Romanoff dynasty.

They had always looked forward to his return. Some few who knew the worst, may have given up hope. But not the great majority of Russia.

As this country's commercial relations with other nations improved, the talk was always of:

"When Lenin gets back to work."

Now Lenin is dead, of an illness, the exact nature of which was not at first disclosed.

He lived, however, to see the state he dreamed of and fought for, take its place among the nations of the world; a state not yet recognized by many governments, but standing on its own feet.

Simultaneously with Lenin's death comes the passing from supreme power in Russia of the man who led with him—Leon Trotsky.

The latter, soviet war minisied, has been relegated to seventh place among the leaders of the less radical order of things in Russia.

What effect the death of Lenin will have upon Trotsky's future, it is too early to predict. Many believe he never will return to the place he enjoyed when he and the late leader stood side by side at the head of bolshevik affairs.

At half past one this afternoon, the physicians who had attended Lenin in his last illness issued a bulletin describing the soviet chieftain's death.

His condition had greatly improved, they said.

Suddenly, on Monday, it took a turn for the worse.

Lenin died within a few hours.

Paralysis of the respiratory organs was apparently the cause.

The body will be brought to Moscow tomorrow, where it will lie in state until Saturday.

In death, Lenin is to be made accessible to all those who followed him and who could not be with him in his illness.

An official statecmnt issued by the Russian government said that the soviet government will continue to carry out the will of the workers and peasants, in accordance with Lenin's last wishes.

Lenin had become an enigma to his countrymen, living in seclusion, his condition carefully concealed from the world.

It was known that he had suffered a form of paralysis, and the famous specialists had come from far lands to treat him.

Only a fortnight ago, it was reported to Russia at large that Lenin was getting well. He had been out hunting rabbits on Christmas day—the Christmas of the "capitalistic" countries he scored—and again on New Year's day.

His early return to participation in Russian affairs even was rumored.

No one from the outside world was permitted to see Lenin.

He was kept closely guarded, while others carried on the affairs of government policy and the country that had followed his lead awaited his re-

Read How Mrs. Walsh was Helped by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mannington, West Virginia.—"I took the Vegetable Compound when having the turn of life. I had been sick for seven years. I would get a little better, then I broke down again. It would be hard for me to describe how I was, for I was a perfect wreck. I suffered with a pain in my left side, then I would have numb spells and I would think I couldn't live. I would have hot flashes, then would come weak spells. I was so weak I would think I couldn't ever get a meal ready. My work was a burden to me. I was not able to do my housework half of the time. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has given me strength and health. The hot flashes left me and I got better of the numb spells. That summer I could do my housework and all sick women what your wonderful medicine did for me, and will always recommend it. I was born in Marion County and still live in it. I am known to all my neighbors, and you can publish this statement because it is true."—Mrs. John W. Walsh, R. No. 1, Box 36, Mannington, West Virginia.

EDISON'S OPINION

"The doctor of the future will give no medicine, but will interest his patients in the care of the human frame, in diet, and in cause and prevention of diseases."

Every physician and scientist who investigates Chiropractic says it is logical and in accord with facts.

Being up-to-date means being always a little ahead of the procession. Why not try Chiropractic as a first resort rather than as a "last resort?" You will not be disappointed.

Most persons soon perceive the logic of spinal adjustments, and upon giving it a trial, sound its praises unceasingly.

Pain is but the cry of an injured nerve.

If you suffer from Colds, Coughs, Catarrh, Sore Throat, Tonsilitis and Adenoids, Sore Eyes and Headaches, Dizziness, Earache, Nervousness, Loss of Sleep, Stomach and Liver Troubles, Bronchitis, Pleurisy and Lung Troubles, Kidney and Bladder disturbances, Bright's disease, Diabetes, Skin Diseases, Eczema, Pimples and Eruptions, Rheumatism and Lumbago.

If your nerves are crying for help and you are suffering from pain, do not delay, but come and see me at once. Spinal Analysis Free.

"West OF THE Water Tower"

"West of the Water Tower" is one of the biggest sensations the book world has ever known.

Just imagine the picture possibilities of such an intensely dramatic study of small town life, with its powerful story of reckless love—a story crowded with enough sensational scenes for ten ordinary pictures.

Think of Glenn Hunter, Broadway's favorite young star, as Guy, the town's smartest boy, and May McAvoy as Bee, the town's prettiest girl—who believe their great love is only a matter between them and God—who lock their secret securely in their own hearts—'till Fate whispers the stark truth to the boy's father—a bigoted, rugged minister—who precipitates a tremendous scene that alone could make any picture a smashing success. But this is just one of the many big moments which make this, without doubt, the outstanding picture drama of recent years.

In Society's Realm

The Pastor's Aid society of the First Baptist church tendered Mrs. Henry Seidell of Lock No. Four a delightful birthday surprise party at her home in Railroad street last night. About 25 guests assembled at her home, after she had been called away and had everything in readiness when she returned. The honor guest was presented with a beautiful cake containing 44 candles. At a late hour after a pleasant evening spent in games, music and social converse, a dainty luncheon was served. The guests then departed wishing Mrs. Seidell many happy returns of the day.

"American Art" was the subject for discussion at the regular bimonthly meeting of the Gothic Literary club last evening held in the Community room of the Elks club, with a rather small attendance, due to the intense cold weather. Miss Frances Lowman of Belle Vernon gave a splendid paper entitled, "Pictures We Love to Live With." During the business session that followed, further discussion was taken up on the play, "The Commuters," a Broadway success, to be given by the Gothic members under the supervision of James Russell, in the High School auditorium, Tuesday, March 4. A trip to Pittsburgh was also proposed for the near future, at which time the members will attend a theatre and then have luncheon in the club house of the Congress of Women's Clubs. An excellent luncheon was served in the dining room, the hostesses being Miss Frances Lowman and Miss Della Swan.

"PECK" MAKING HIS MARK IN MOVIES

Prominent among the juveniles who have forged ahead in the year past is Jackie Vernon known to everyone in Charleroi as "Peck" Webster, former High School football star, whose work in this time has placed him in line for greaterthings to come. Jackie made his entry into the real of flickering celluloid in Chicago where he spent one summer in the studios. Then he returned to Charleroi to enter West Virginia University after refusing several flattering offers from some of the leading eastern colleges who desired to annex him to their gridiron squads because of his reputed prowness as a pig skin warrior. In the end, however, he failed to enter the University for on the eve of his departure for football camp with the "Mountaineers" he went back to Chicago where he once more plunged into the activities of the Windy City's film colony.

He resumed under the direction of F. W. Corbett who was producing features known as the F. W. Corbett Productions' playing small parts and performing various stunts for the the company and not much later he camera. Later he was featured by went to Hollywood to try his luck in the capital of filmdom. He has been there a little over a year and has made steady and excellent program. In addition to his histrionic ability he is gifted as a writer of short scripts and at the present time is hard at work preparing a screen vehicle for one of our foremost celebrities.

"Peck" is a hard, sincere and conscientious worker and his many friends hope he will meet with all the success he so justly deserves.

Products Show Is Attracting Many Heads

Harrisburg, January 22.—(United Press).—Dirt farmers, gentleman farmers, agricultural association representatives and federal as well as state officials, participated today in the opening of the Eighth Annual Farm Products show here.

Two objects are in view for the show, which lasts all this week. They are:

1. To exhibit the products of Pennsylvania farms for the year 1923.

2. To exchange ideas of the best farming methods, marketing conditions and various other problems which go under the general head of farm relief.

Governor Pinchot will present the view of his administration to the gathering tonight at the first educational meeting, which is a distinct part of the program.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace will also speak and his remarks are expected to disclose the national administration's viewpoint.

John A. McSparran, master of the state grange, and a recognized authority in agricultural matters in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere, will state the case of the farmer.

Thirty agricultural associations of the state are represented.

There will be 80,000 square feet of exhibits of farm and dairy products competing for $35,000 in cash prizes.

One exhibit of more than 12,000 ears of corn is on display. Educational exhibits occupy 17,000 square feet, of which 12,000 is livestock. Dairy equipment occupies 22,000 square feet, poultry 13,000 feet, farm machinery 15,000 and horticultural products 15,230 square feet.

LABOR'S SWAY IN ENGLAND

London, Jan. 22—(United Press)—Great Britain, greatest of the few remaining monarchies, placed its affairs of state and industry today in the hands of a government built of its laboring class.

Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative party, representing the old order of things in England, tendered his resignation and those of his ministers to his sovereign at noon.

A few moments later King George called Ramsay MacDonald to form the first labor government in the history of Britain—the first of its kind in the world.

Without a shot having been fired, or a blow struck the power and authority of affairs in Britain passed from the most Conservative group of ministers guiding the destiny of a nation to the most advanced that have been called to the helm of a government recognized by all powers.

King George, figurehead of what may well be the last of the old order, summoned to office a man, in Ramsay MacDonald, who has stood frankly and openly for a levy upon the nation's capital and putting an end to the system that has maintained the monarchy where it is today.

King Took Doors for Taxes.

In old English towns during the Seventeenth century if the owner of a building failed to pay the taxes due the king the doors and windows of the building were taken off, every one in it was turned into the street and the structure had to remain idle for a year and a day or longer before the doors might be redeemed in open court or before the building could pass to the next heir.

Early Horseback Riding.

The early Greeks and Romans rode horses bareback. They regarded it as unmanly to ride in a saddle. In fact, the modern saddle with pommel and stirrups was unknown to the ancients. Nero gave out fancy coverings to his cavalry and the bareback riders of the German forests used to laugh at them. Saddles with trees came into use in the Fourth century; stirrups three centuries later.

How Birds Keep Down Insects.

All through the winter months our forests are searched, tree after tree, by nuthatches, titmouses, creepers and woodpeckers for eggs and other hibernating forms of insects, says the American Forestry Magazine. Under normal conditions they destroy something like 90 per cent of the tiny caterpillars batching upon the external parts of trees.
